As soon as the last bell on June 9, 1982 rang, students began their summer vacations. To have fun to stay cool, students spent their time in the water, catching rays, and just taking it easy.

As money started running out, students started working to keep the good times rolling. Jobs also helped to keep from boredom taking over and gave the students prior experience for their up coming years.

Students also went vacationing, no matter what it took to get there.

For some it was a quick and easy plane trip, but others had to rely on their good looks.

The bells rang again on September 7, 1982, summer was over for Sahuaro students, but they already have next summer's calendar filled.

Sleep take us away. Sabino Canyon take us away. Mt. Lemmon take us away; Chuck E. Cheese and Dairy Queen take us away.

Here comes the weekend. All of our time isn't leisurely spent with an essay due on Monday or a room to clean or a job in a hot greasy kitchen. But Sahuaro students always make time on the weekends, especially night time. After a football game it was either a desert party or a visit to one of the many fast food joints around. Some other familiar spots around are Golf 'n Things, Champions, the movies or a concert.

During the day many students were found throwing footballs or frisbees, playing tennis or biking- but one of the things most people did was catch up on sleep.

Student's definition of the weekend; Kick Back and Take it Easy.

September was a busy month. Besides the usual back to school activities, Sahuaro students had many things to keep their attention. Friday night football games were always a popular activity. Organization fund raisers were common in both September and October, when things from class buttons to bagles were sold.

The month of October was highlighted with slave day. Besides bringing plenty of extra smiles to the campus, this junior class fund raiser brought in a good deal of money. October was also the month of the Powder Puff football game, which was won by the senior girls. (The male cheerleaders added their special touch to the event.)

Not only did Sahuaro's volleyball team take first in state in November, but also in November, band received a superior rating at U of A band day. November was the month that concert choir held their successful musical "Guys & Dolls". Homecoming was held in November. The football team played a great game and tied Amphi 34-34.

COUGARS FOR SALE!

We all have our price

During the week of October 4-8, students from all classes auctioned themselves off to help raise money for the Jr. class in the 1983 Junior Slave Sale. A record breaking bid for $105 (over last year, record-breaker $65), for Mark Monacell, Chad Strickland, Eric Mickelson, and Larry Coranic, helped raise this years nearly $600.

On Monday, October 11 approximately 150 students came to school dressed from babies to hit-men, and from punkrockers to flower children. Slave Day continues to be an off beat and fun way to help raise money for the Jr. class and to get the students back into the swing of school.

After a month of preparation the Junior-Senior Powder Puff game took place on October 13, 1982. The seniors showed their superiority by drubbing the juniors 26-6, and the juniors showed their class by congratulating the seniors with a smile. All of the participants had a lot of fun and raised almost $400 in the process.

A TRADITIONAL SCENE

Spirit was high for Sahuaro Homecoming

Homecoming. What do you think of when you hear this word?

Floats, graduated cheerleaders coming back to cheer, hopeful royalty nominees circling the track against the cold wind, and the winning football game. This was the scene at Sahuaro on November 5, 1982.

The theme of this years floats was the movies: the Freshmen with Poltergeist, the Sophomores with Caveman, the Juniors with Wizard of Oz, and the Seniors winning with King Kong. At half time the Homecoming nominees circled the track in Thunderbirds instead of the usual Corvettes.

The game was exciting from the beginning to the last three seconds when Sahuaro kicked a field goal and went on to tie the game, 34-34, against the Amphi Panthers.

Last years queen, Chris Carlton, and one of last years kings, Joe Estes were on hand to crown Brian Bingold and Laura Rupp this years king and queen along with the other class winners at the dance following the game.

To start the new year off, Sahuaro Cougars get in the competition of basketball and wrestling. Ending the season with five wrestlers attending state in Phoenix.

Keeping the clubs at Sahuaro going, making quick breakfasts, and satisfying that mid-afternoon hunger were the everlasting cream cheese bagels. Bagels have been popular at Sahuaro many years and many more to come.

To keep the spirit up students conformed on different days to several styles of dress. All of this helping to keep the unity, Sahuaro's Spirit Week was a success. During Cougar and Volleyball Games Seniors topped the year with the leading score.

Sahuaro started the 1983 year on the right foot and will continue to make the 1982-1983 year one to remember.

“Tootsie” time

How powerful is sisterhood? So powerful, that the boys are getting in on the act. In emulation, perhaps, of this year's box office knock-out "Tootsie." Two of the new events in Spirit Week featured guys in girls' roles; one was the Herman volleyball game which the seniors triumphantly won. It worked out quite well considering the fact that it was the first year guys entered the female domain of "spikes", "set-ups", and "volleys." The Mr. Irresistible contest was a new addition in which guys, representing each class, dressed up as girls in skirts, panty-hose, high heels, make-up, long hair, stuffed bras—the whole bit. Of course, walking around all day long wearing high heels can get a little tiresome, but getting money for it—indefensible! The "Tootsie" whose irresistibility solicited the most votes was Sophomore Joe Castreano. The money collected by the participants was given to the respective classes.

Spirit Week also included the conventional games such as the spoon race, the egg toss, the pie eating contest, and the clothes relay. The Cougar Games and the Spirit assembly were a much more intense part of the week. They gave many students the opportunity to win points for their class and to have fun and make fools of themselves at the same time.

The schedule during the week included: Red-and-Blue Day, New Wave Day, Preppy Day, Beach/Surfer Day, and Warm-up Day—a popular and comfortable new addition. "I think it would be neat to see more people participate and get involved," said Beth Stern.

This year's Pep Assemblies provided a boost in spirit for both students and faculty. The Sahuaro athletic teams were introduced to the school. This gave the opportunity for students to meet the athletes representing our school in various sports. Supporting the teams by cheering, the songleaders helped with the school spirit. Sahuaro also had the first opportunity to see the songleaders new routines. Mr. Bovell was in charge of the American Field Service students this year. We all had the chance to be introduced to the foreign exchange students and to learn of the opportunities that we could have. Student Council organized activities during the Assemblies for both faculty and students to participate in. Pep Assemblies were enjoyed by everyone who attended. They brought student and faculty closer to the schools activitie while providing a boost in spirit.

THE END OF ANOTHER YEAR

Students anticipate the summer

J. Fox

T. Zoucha

Spring-a time for vacations, shorts and the end of the school year.

As the school year dragged on into March, a bad case of "Senioritis" hit many students.

To pass the remaining time, students were involved in many activities. Biking up to Sahuaro Natl. Monument or driving to Sabino Canyon were just a few things students did to relax and have fun during rodeo and spring vacations.

The Spring Fair at Sahuaro and the Spring Fling at the UofA were a part of students' activities. The annual Senior Show and it's rehearsals also took place in March and April.

Although all of these things were important to students; for the Seniors, the prom and graduation topped the list.

The four years spent at Sahuaro for the class of '83 may have seemed long for some, the memories and friends they made will always stay with them.

Teamwork is the key to winning.

This year Cougar pride soared high when the varsity football team went roaring onto the field. The team was considered rather young, but made up for it with plenty of talent and spirit. Teamwork and intensity were key words in the success of the Cougar football team.

A superb offense propelled the Cougars to the top of their ability. Quarterback Rodney Peete was one of the leading passers in the city. His receivers, Louis Schuette and Craig Reeves were among the best in their speciality. The Cougars were good in the air but also had much talent in their backfield. Other good offensive players were Darryl Rice and Mike Sarabia. The team also had a lot of experience on their defensive squad. With such players as Scott Stone and Martin Tetreault.

With their combination of spirit, talent and intensity the Cougars were on their way to a triumphant season.

J.V. stays strong

This year's J.V. squad was mainly sophomore dominated. Coach Stan didn't have any major goals for the team this year other than to develop players for the varsity and to have everyone play as a team.

The squad had a successful year and had no problem living up to the reputation of last year's team. Coach Stan thought that they had a very good chance of going undefeated for the season. The toughest teams they had to compete against were Sunnyside and Catalina.

The team's running game was strong because of many quick and agile players. Some of the more recognizable players were Cole, Burton, Sabia, Bambauer, Dominguez, McCord, Fowler, Wiebers, and Thomas. Coach Stan added that there weren't any really outstanding players, but the key to their success was all of their talents focused towards winning.

Cougars shoot for the sky.

Last year's state champions were only a preview of this year's outstanding team.

Their strength lies in their team unity acquired through two years of intense practices. The team was led by strong coaching and eight returning varsity players which were the basis for this year's winning team.

The team had hopes to repeat their state championship title of the previous year.

This year's captain was the four year letterperson Patty Egan. Other outstanding members were seniors: Mariellen Kulik, Lorri Gibson, K.C. Hamilton and Jill Kroes. Starting junior players were Yvonne Lewis and Kristy Liechty.

Together, this year's team showed the enthusiasm and perseverance to have a winning season.

Cougars run'em in the ground.

Our cross country teams did extremely well this year. The varsity team began unranked, but they soon ranked seventh in the state. The team usually strives to rank in the top ten in the state, and almost always succeeds. Coach Lockwood's top five runners were three juniors and two sophomores. His young team has gone with a record of twelve wins and three losses. This year's varsity team was lead by Gary Teel, Brian Pos, Sergio Peralta, Andy Chase, Brian Crowder, and Bill Brooks.

The junior varsity team also had a good season. The teams recieved five freshmen that added to their depth. Toward the end of the season, many of the sophomores made their way to the varsity team, and left the freshmen to continue their winning record. The J.V. team was lead by Bur Bateman, Joe Casertano, Brent Smith, Chris Lewers, and Nathan Johnson.

The girls team, coached by Margee Laakso, once again had a winning season. The girls did an outstanding job of living up to the teams winning standards. Scoring the points for the team were Pam North, Patrice Casertano, Cheri Church, Wendy Glendening, and Diane Silver.

Intense concentration is a necessity.

Golf requires a lot of things. First most you need clubs and a few golf balls. But most important would most likely be intense concentration with a burning desire to win. The Sahuaro golf team had all these requirements to lead them to a winning season.

This year's golf team was no different than year's past, with its long line of victorious seasons. The team was rather young with only two Seniors and a bunch of new freshmen. What the team lacked in age it made up for with talent and experience. Many of the team members practiced long hours over the summer by participating in local golf tournaments. The team consisted of thirteen golfers. A winning spirit drove the golf team to the high standards of golf in the Southern Division. Top honors on the team were shared by Juniors Steve Kosnik and Duane Otte. Other top players were Senior Don Brosnan and Freshman Greg Schuette.

High goals and determination.

The boys swim team set high goals this year and that meant lots of hard work. The team practiced two times a day working on their skill and style.

Having the right state of mind was particularly important to swimming. Since the workouts were difficult and monotonous, a swimmer had to be dedicated. The boys showed an exceptional attitude.

There was the talents of Joe Barr, Doug and Craig Janes, Ian Lewis, Steve Fredericks, and Tim Heiman to help out the team.

The divers worked out with just as much enthusiasm, they worked on perfecting skill and technique in their graceful sport. Fellow diver Carmine Tilghman helped in more ways than one. Besides placing first in every meet, Carmine also coached the other team members and helped them perfect their dives. With the talent that the swimmers and divers displayed, much was accomplished and will continue to be accomplished.

Striving for number one

The girls swimmers have maintained a reputation of being the best in their sport. This was achieved through hours of hard work and self discipline.

There was plenty of dedication which showed as they worked out twice daily, with morning workouts starting at 5:45 am. They averaged 7 to 8 thousand yards in evening workouts, in addition to yards swum in the morning.

Some of the swimmers that really helped the team were Sandi Menhennett, Susie Menhennett, Carol Lewis, Stephanie Weaver, Chris Perez, Kim Fulton, and Kelly Reed. With their talents and plenty of Cougar pride, the girls swim team should continue with many more victorious seasons.

The right frame of mind.

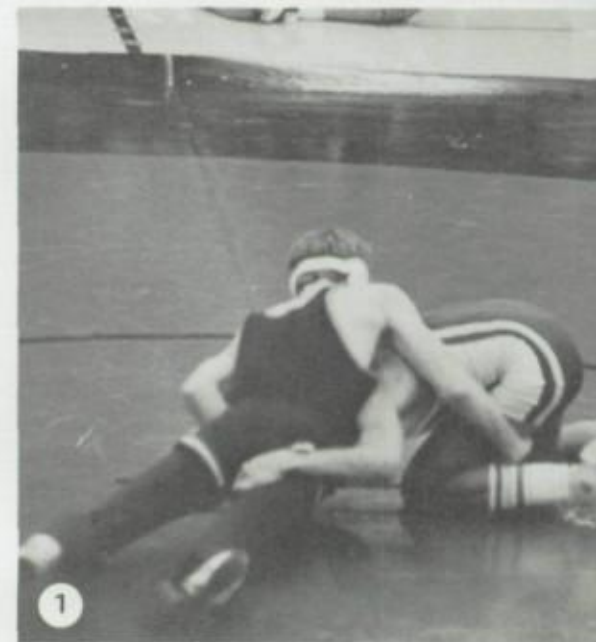

"It is the most humbling sport there is; it takes a lot of guts to walk out in front of that crowd," says Coach Pierson. He also adds that it also takes hours of work and dedication. The freshmen and J.V. teams did not lack any of these qualities as they worked out six days a week. In addition to their workouts, which averaged 2 ½ hours, the wrestlers must also be mentally prepared for competition. "They must see themselves successful," Coach Pierson believes. "Self Confidence is so important in this sport."

"The attitude has to be tough because the sport is such a tough one." One of the reasons this sport is so difficult is that it is the only one in high school competition where it is always one-on-one contact. It is up to you, and no one else is there when things are getting tough.

Some of the qualities that coaches Pierson and Prickett look for in these wrestlers are dedication, a willingness to work, and most important in Coach Pierson's eyes, a desire to succeed. "Athletic ability is not always a major factor; it is the courage and the desire that in the end determines the winners."

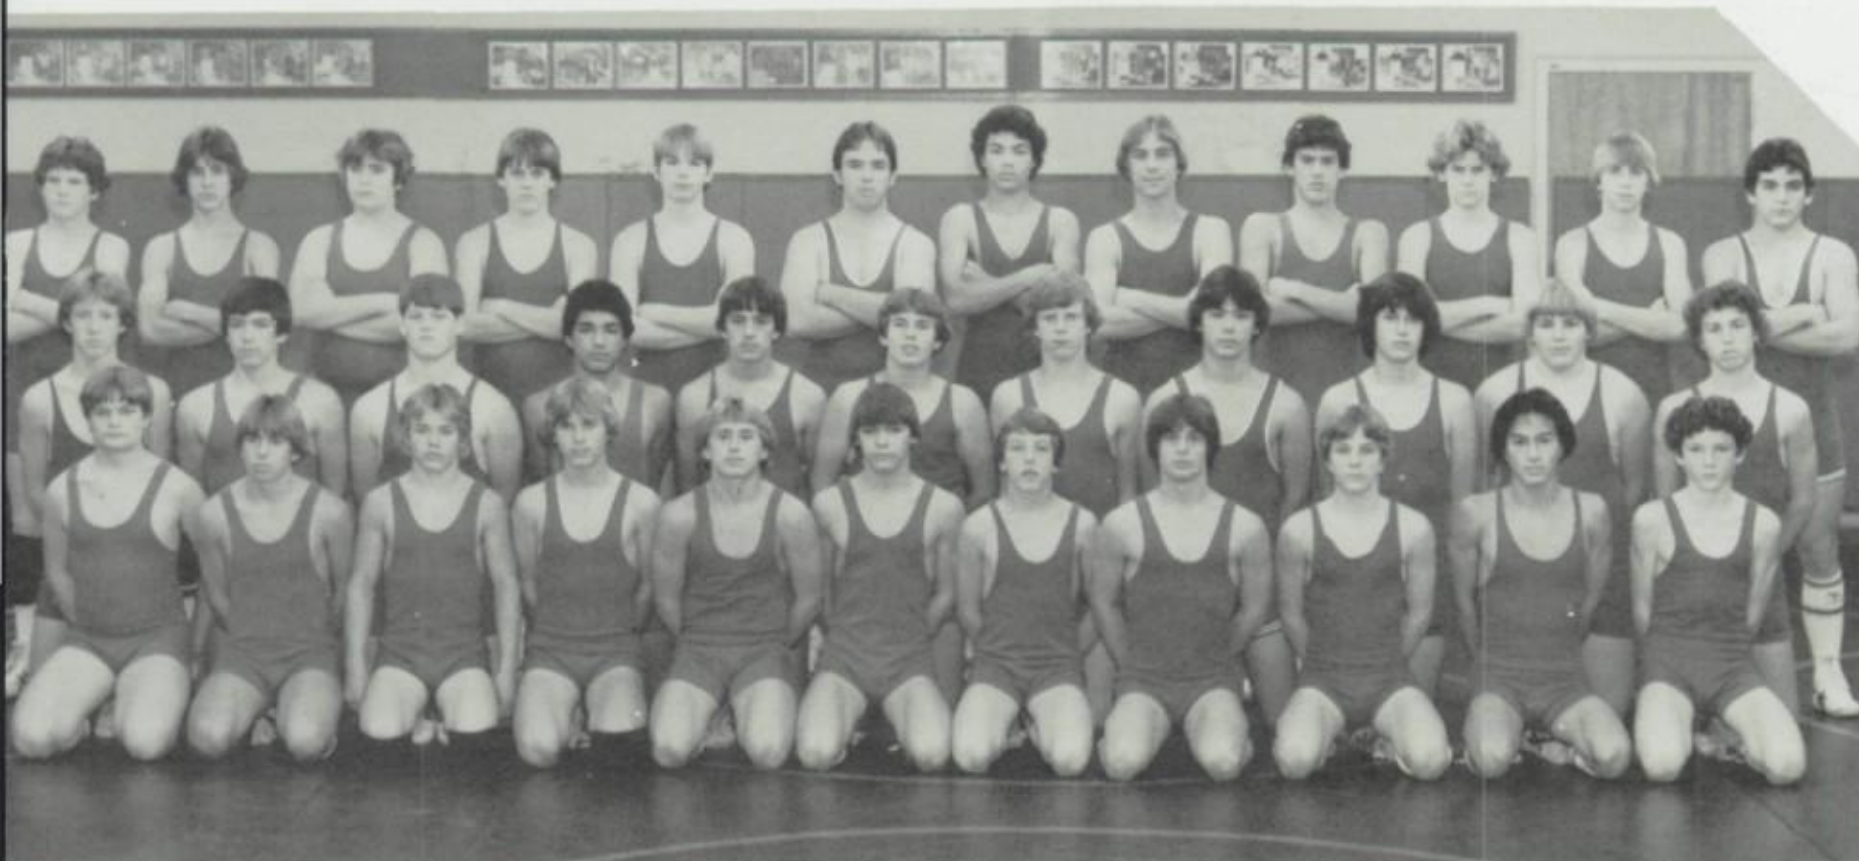

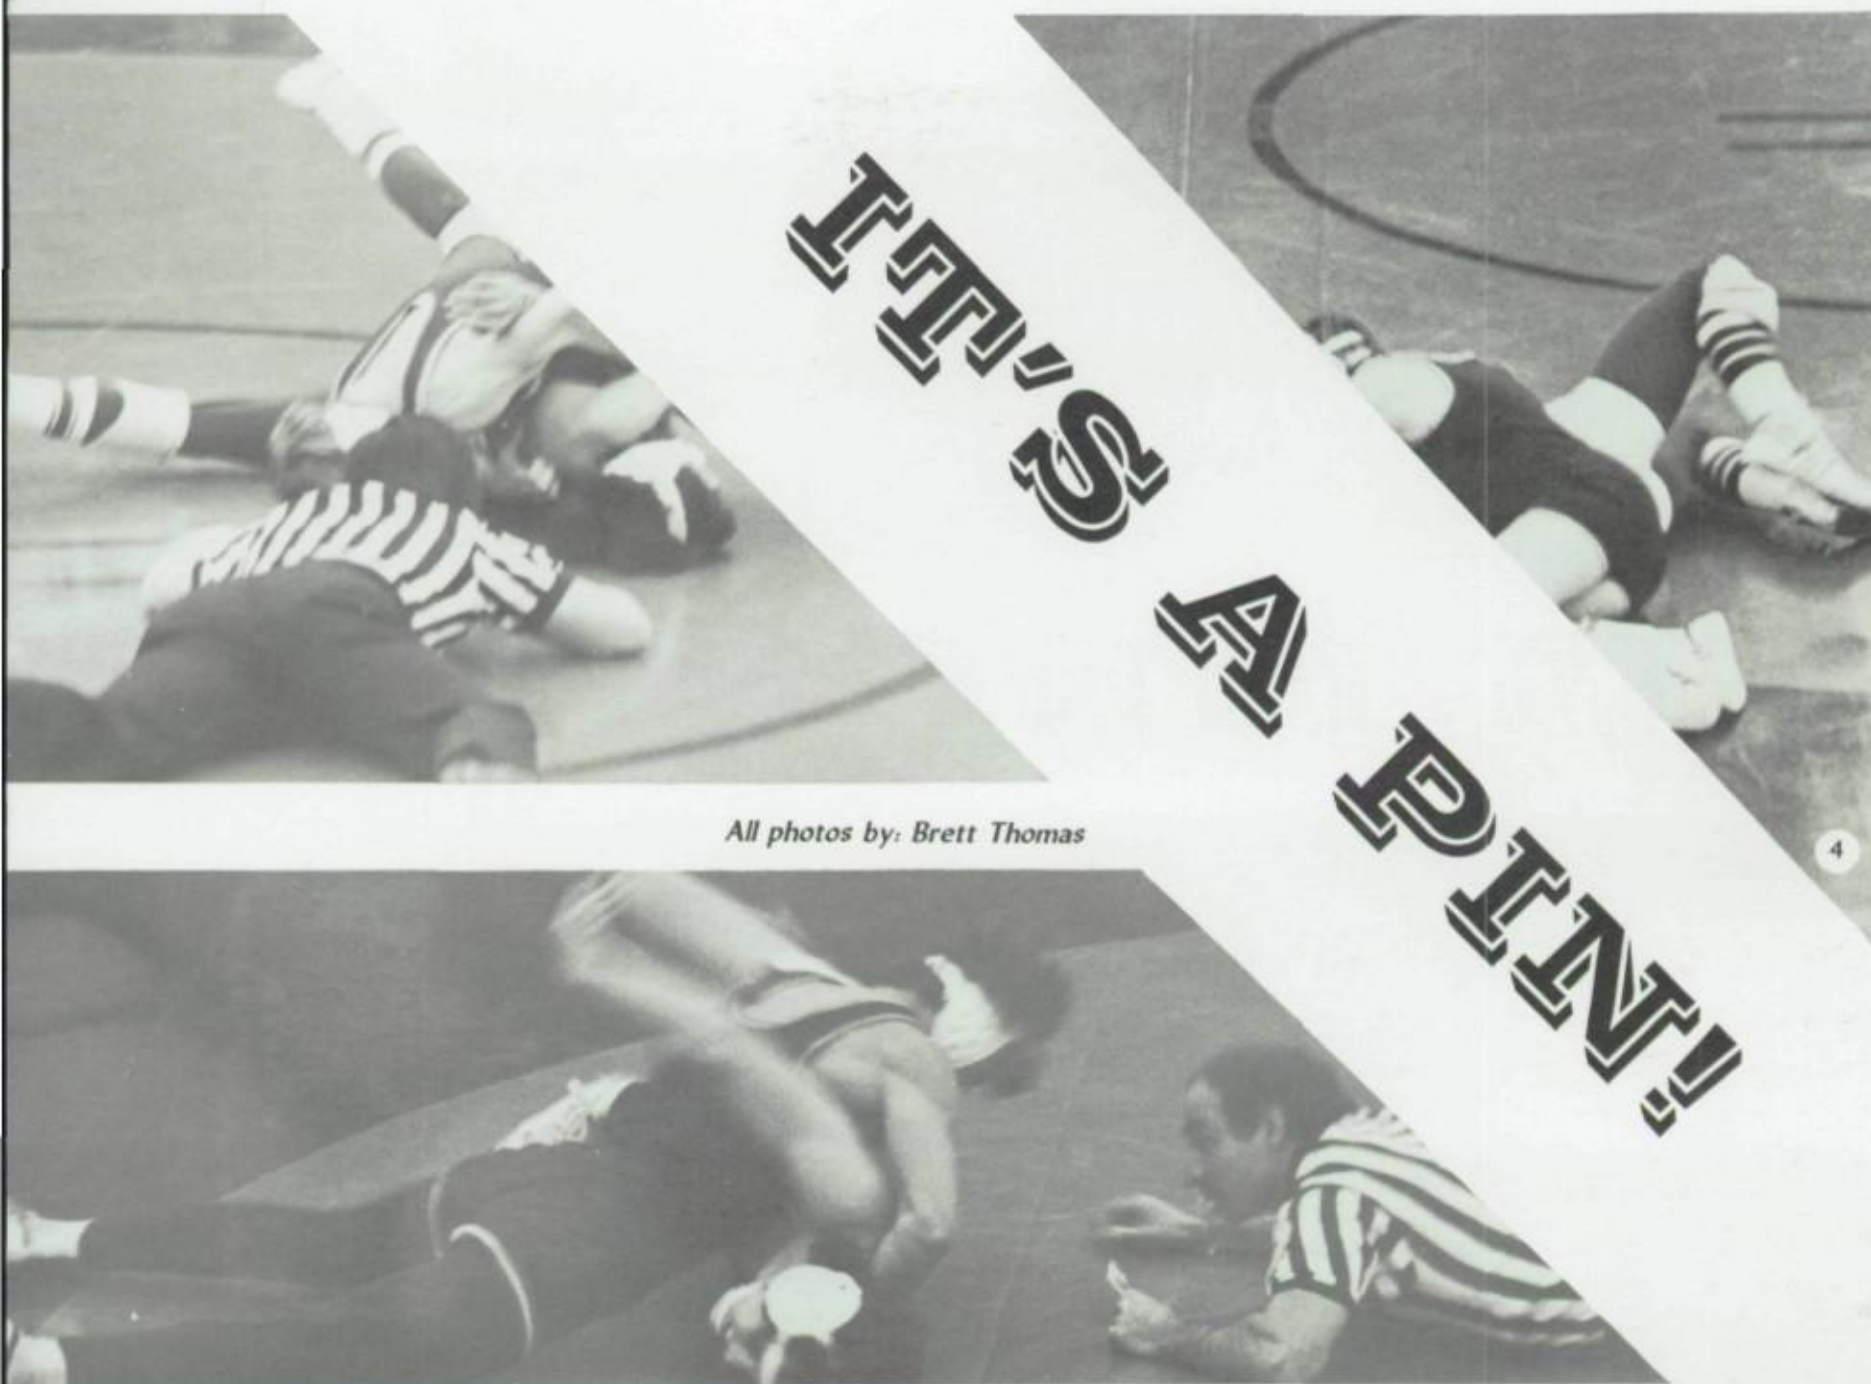

Some of the outstanding freshmen and J.V. wrestlers that possessed these qualities were Jimmy Grantham, Thad Furguson, Bobby Bujarski, and Rich Dorian.

1. A tricky move is demonstrated here. 2. These wrestler show determination and skill. 3. It is hard to figure out where you are sometimes. 4. This wrestler from Sahuaro is about to pin his man.

Spirit dominates

Half way through the season it was apparent that the Cougars were on the ball again. Coach Jim Higgins thought that the 1982-83 year would be one of the team's best. The varsity softball team was looked on by many as being one of the top contenders for the state title. A strong pitching staff contributed to the Cougars' might, headed by Denise Adams and Kris Liechty, who were two of the top four pitchers in the Southern Division.

The J.V. softball team had an outstanding year. The team went undefeated for the season. Coach Alice Bishop was very pleased with the outcome of the season and the performance of the girls. As with the varsity, many long hours were spent practicing, which proved to be invaluable.

The team set out this year with the objective of winning Divisionals. To accomplish this goal they would have to defeat their strongest opponents, Salpointe and Cholla.

The varsity squad consisted of thirteen girls, seven of whom were returning lettermen. Coach Higgins explained that this year's team was very fast and had a strong defense. But the driving force behind the team was the ever-present Cougar spirit.

SWISSE!

Cougar Cagers shoot for two.

Let me ask you a question. Do you think that you could go up and down a court jumping, running, shooting, and dribbling for about an hour? This type of activity puts a lot of strain on a basketball player. You have to be in top physical condition. Pre-season training consisted of long mileage loops to build up their endurance.

Once the season started the team began working on fundamental skills such as passing, shooting, and dribbling. Then the practices became more indepth when they began working on strategic plays.

The basketball team practiced an average of about three hours a day. This year's team was considered rather young with only two senior starters on the squad. The cougar cagers were also considered small compared to past year's teams.

Standouts on the team were seniors Steve McGann and Louis Schuette and Junior Rodney Peete. Other top players were Senior Sheldon Thomas, Junior Eric Aurand and Sophomore Victor Roberts.

This year's J.V. and Freshmen basketball teams had outstanding winning seasons.

The J.V. team started out good, and began to peak at just the right time. Coach Crawford said the team started out playing separately at first but were playing more like a team towards the middle of the season. With Mark Fleischmann, Jim McMahon, David Ceizyk, Brad Foust, David Kohlbacher and help from some good substitutes, the J.V. team ended with a great winning season.

The Freshmen team lead by a strong starting six, was composed of Marc Fleetwood, Brad Chilcote, Greg Schuette, Todd George, Mark Mariani, and Chris Perrin. The team did an outstanding job of living up to the high standards Sahuaro has set in the past. Coach Vielledent said their goals this year were to have fun, to be fundamentally sound, and to be the best freshmen in town.

We will always be #1

The 1982-83 varsity was young and also inexperienced, but their winning attitude weighed this out. They also had to play knowing that everyone was out to get them.

Success of individual players was the goal Coach Eustice set for his team, and said that team success was the way to achieve it. The top competitors in the North League other than Sahuaro were CDO, Rincon, Sabino, and Salpointe.

The squad's strongest area was the defense up the middle, accentuated by the fielding range of short-stop Rodney Peete. The weakest part of the ball club was it's young pitching staff. Assistant Coach Danny Roma, a former pitcher and graduate of Sahuaro, was hopeful in improving this.

Coach Hal Eustice added, "These are the trying years for a coach, but they can also be the most rewarding."

Cougars train hard.

Being on the junior varsity baseball team took a lot of hard work and dedication. It required talented players and expert coaching from Jack Lehmkuhl to make this year's team a great one.

Practices began right after tryouts in February and continued through the hot months of May. The twenty team members worked out four exhausting hours six days a week.

This year the J.V. team was confronted with a grueling nineteen-game schedule. The team excelled in all aspects of the game. The infield players did exceptionally well. Although it was very time consuming and strenuous, baseball provided enjoyment for the players.

This year's J.V. and Varsity track teams had outstanding seasons this year. Both teams received a new coaching staff, which consisted of Coach Margee Laakso as the teams distance coach, Coach Bill Lopez as the coach for the sprinters and hurdlers, and Coach Lance Prickett for shotput and discuss.

The Varsity coaches had a very young team to work with. There was a total of five returning seniors. There were also quite a few sophomores that made their way up the Varsity team through the course of the season. The team did an outstanding job of living up to the high standards of Sahuaro's teams.

The J.V. Team also had a great season. They received quite a few returning sophomores and new freshman which added to the depth of the J.V. team. Although they started out slow, the J.V. team took off and finished with a great season.

Working together towards excellence

Depth! That would be the one word to describe this year's girls' track team.

The strength of the team lie in their large numbers along with a dominating enthusiastic spirit that led them to a victorious season. The team had a lot of depth with returning letter winners in almost every event. The sprints were led by Kristy Williams and Kristi Jenkins, the 400 by Julie Moore and Chris Horan and distance by Pam North and Cheri Church. Tammy Goddard and Trish Merrill proved once again to be the top hurdlers. In the weights Leslie Cook and Shelly Matthews led the way while K.C. Hamilton and Jill Kroes earned the spots as top jumpers.

The Cougar tracksters could be found out on any given day enduring rigorous training that began with a half hour of in depth stretching led by captains Patrice Casertano, Jill Kroes and Kristy Williams.

Teams show exceptional talent.

Sahuaro's girls' basketball teams for the 1982-83 season had some exceptional talent in both their junior varsity and varsity level. The coach for the girls varsity team was Jim Higgins; Betty Johnson coached the varsity level.

Both coaches had high opinions of their teams' potential at the start of the year. Coach Johnson was quoted as saying that the outcome of the year should be good. "There are experienced players returning in height and ball handling. All have shooting ability." Coach Higgins commented at the beginning of the year that the junior varsity team is a very young team. "Progress is slow but improvement is along the way."

Tough season ahead

Being a one-on-one sport, tennis can be very demanding both mentally and physically. You're all by yourself, just you and your opponent. The pressure is great and all mistakes are your own. Even in doubles, you're half the team, and if you're not in top form, forget it.

With this in mind, approximately thirty boys tried out for this year's teams. Twenty were kept—ten on varsity and ten on J.V. This year the varsity consisted of John Capp, Mark Norman, Eric Miller, Geoff Ferlan, Pat Gilday, Don Aquilano, Mike Spacone, Denny Ceizyk, John Ludwig, and Pat Ortiz. Making up the J.V. were Craig Janes, Scott Holden, Vince Cruz, Bicha Ghoulam, Steve Piakis, Steve Osborne, Mike Buglewicz, Mike Carreras, Mike Krugman, and Dean Drawbaugh.

Netters climb towards the top.

In what sport would you say you get a great tan? Tennis of course! But that's not all there is to it. Tennis requires a lot of hard work that is hardly ever rewarded.

Leading the varsity squad were seniors Becky Spencer and Amanda Lentz. Top players for J.V. were Julie Price and Laynee Mann.

Strength, depth, high quality, superior moves, extremely talented. These are words that Miss Martin used to describe this years Sahuaro Cougars Girls' Gymnastics team.

Miss Martin felt that her team was the most talented team in their division. Possessing these qualities, the team had a winning season.

The highlight of the season was participating in the Tucson Police Department's Barry Headricks Tournament.

Although the team is all around talented, some of the best events were the uneven parallel bars and the floor exercises.

Leading the team were Kim and Kris Campagne, Lisa Hart and Deidra Chery.

Teamwork and dedication pay off.

Sahuaro High School is proud of its nationally recognized newsmagazine, Mountain Shadows. For the past five years, the Mountain Shadows has received the All American Award, which is given by the National Scholastic Press Association. The magazine was judged along with publications from high schools across the nation.

This year the Mountain Shadows staff created a whole new image for itself, converting to a newsmagazine format. Some of the changes included putting more emphasis on feature material and using less current news, which became quickly outdated.

The Mountain Shadows staff consisted of seventeen members, with Ruben Ramirez as editor, and Mr. Bill Thompson as adviser. Each member had to be recommended to Mr. Thompson, and had to submit a formal letter of application. Everyone had a specific duty to carry out, and had to cooperate with the others to meet the deadlines of the monthly publication.

The most important things Mr. Thompson tried to teach his students were teamwork, writing skills, and good organization. His teaching, along with the dedication of the staff, certainly paid off. The time and care put into each issue was clearly evident.

The challenges for this year were tough.

The 1982-83 school year was a success, and to make things even better the Viva Staff is well worth applauding.

It was a tough year, because of all the new people who came in at the beginning of the year. It was a fairly young staff.

Mr. Daunheimer started the new staffers off by first lecturing them for a few days, so they would know the ropes. Then let them go to their section editor to start them on their new assignments. Along with the assignments came deadlines, and those are very important. Each person had to have their work in on a certain date. That was a big challenge in itself.

The more experienced staffers that have been here for two or more years also worked very hard. They set their goals higher, so that they felt their hard work was something to achieve. They also helped the new people get adjusted to their new situations.

All in all this year has been fun. We all made new friends, and had a good time doing it.

To be on the Sahuaro Photo Pub staff is more than you think. It's not just being able to take pictures, it involves being in certain places at certain times to take them, developing the film into negatives, and then, in the dark-room, making the negatives into prints. All this must be done in time for the deadlines.

The qualifications for being on the staff are having passed beginning and advanced photography, and being O.K.ed by Mrs. Handler, the advisor.

This year's Photo Pub editors were Luis Figueroa and Danny Runkle. They kept the Photo Pub rolling by giving out order forms, assigning pictures, and just basically keeping everything organized. With the help of everyone put together, they did a very good job of supplying us all with the wonder of pictures.

A SPECTRUM OF TALENTS

Students contribute their writing talents

Under the direction of Mrs. Garitano, the Spectrum class this year has turned out their 6th successful issue of Spectrum. The magazine consists of a spectrum of Sahuaro students' writing styles and talents. It includes poetry, prose, artwork, photography and calligraphy.

The class is a year long and is available for juniors and seniors who are interested in creative writing. The first quarter is the study of prose writing, the second is the study of poetry, third quarter is the construction of Spectrum, and fourth quarter is the distribution and sales of Spectrum. Near the end of the year its members critique one another's work.

The funds they receive are from the sales of the magazine. Spectrum is selling this year for $1.00 and will consist of 60 pages. With the help of the advanced printers, 500 prints of Spectrum were distributed throughout Sahuaro.

Exciting activities got everyone involved

The minute school started Student Council was ready to get the year off to a great success. The class officers were there getting to know everyone and always ready to help. Miss Grose the Student Government advisor was always there to lend a hand if needed.

Student Government's main goal this year was to get everyone involved and to promote school spirit. They not only wanted to get the student body involved in activities that would benefit themselves but also ones that would benefit the school.

Interesting activities that proved successful this year were: Spirit Week, dances, Homecoming, Floats, the Slave Sale, Powder Puff, the Senior Show, etc.... Home-room federation meetings, class meetings, and fundraisers were also well organized and very successful.

The favorite aspects of being on Student Council varied with the individual. Some liked the challenge, some liked being involved, others liked organizing and planning activities. But all met and learned to relate to others better. These are the things that make Student Council seem like a family.

LEARNING IS FUN

A memorable week of work and play

How would you like to spend a whole week participating in your own government? That's what the Boys and Girls State was about. The day started off early and ended late. Each day was spent learning about the government. They participated in a mock government themselves, holding their own elections and getting speakers. The purpose was for them to know more about the government and to bring back the knowledge to the school.

Anytown was different. Each day started off with a flag raising. After breakfast, they broke into discussion groups, then workshops. The day ended around the fireside. At Anytown the students learned about themselves and other people.

Students from both Anytown and Boys and Girls State said that that one week was memorable. One Anytowner said "It was an emotionally enriching experience."

Honor Society serves community

The National Honor Society is a national organization which recognizes the outstanding academic achievements of high school sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Each member must have maintained a 3.4 grade average and offered a service to their school or the surrounding community.

The main goal of the Honor Society was to offer services to the school while learning leadership skills. They did this by volunteering their services at school activities and helping out in any way that they could.

One of the biggest ways in which the Honor Society serves the entire community is through their blood drives. The Honor Society sponsors blood drives by the American Red Cross twice a year. The members provide student help, and try to interest other Sahuaro students into donating their life-saving blood to the Red Cross. The Honor Society's blood drives makes donating blood easy and convenient for faculty and students who might otherwise not take the time.

The Honor Society participated in student exchanges in which they visited other high schools and hosted members from those schools at Sahuaro.

A major activity of the Sahuaro Honor Society was hosting a conference of the high school Honor Society members from across Southern Arizona. Members from all over the state gathered at Sahuaro in February to exchange ideas and meet other members.

The adviser, Mrs. Sue Peters, said she enjoyed being involved with this group. It was rewarding and interesting for her to meet and get to know the kids, and watch their development through their high school years.

The members of the National Honor Society came away with growth in their leadership abilities and a feeling of accomplishment gained from their service of others. Those that participated deserved the honor that was awarded them.

Pep squad is a boost of energy.

Promoting school spirit with energy and enthusiasm is hard work, but our pep squad did just that this year! The pep squad worked as a wonderful support group for athletic activities.

With their interjecting cheers they got everyone involved.

All of Sahuaro's pep squad had secret brothers. They decorated their lockers and baked them all sorts of goodies. It helped the pep squad and the athletes keep a united identity. They also had secret sisters among themselves, which was lots of fun.

Mrs. Handler, in charge of Sahuaro's pep squad, enjoyed working with the girls. She liked listening to them and thought they were good sincere people. It also made her realize how important sports are for high school students.

Songleaders, Varsity and Jr. Varsity Cheerleaders put in a lot of work, hard effort, and time which was very tiring, but I'm sure they all feel it was very much worth it. All in all performing was the best part.

Have you ever wondered what goes on in the 400 building? This is where the Production Printing room is located. The Production Printing class is kept very busy every year. This year was no different. They print the tickets for school activities, the programs, and about 75% of all the forms the administration uses everyday.

Some new machines were bought this year for printing. They got a Cougar Band takes it to the top.

For the first time since 1972, The Sahuaro Band, under the direction of Mr. Bruce Amman, won the coveted Nunamaker Award.

One of three bands to receive this honor at University of Arizona Band Day, the marching band of 1982 showed themselves to be truly superior.

The Nunamaker Award of Distinction is the highest honor a band can receive. It is awarded only to those bands receiving superior ratings in all three categories: marching, music, and general effect.

The band showed their excellence a second time at the State Marching Festival in Mesa, Arizona, where they received a superior rating.

The band consisted of approximately 170 members. There were three auxiliary units: the flag corps, the rifle corps, and the poms, who added that special touch that made the band what it was.

The marching band of 1982 was a fine group of talented and hard-working individuals, who put in many long hours of practice toward reaching their goals.

The dedication of the members, along with the guidance of Mr. Amman and drum majors Mike Engel, Chris McCormick, and Jay Melberg, shaped the band into one of the top bands in the state.

The Sahuaro Band of 1982 and their accomplishments will be long remembered.

Sahuaro High School presents . . .

The Sahuaro High School Orchestra was kept very busy this year. They started out the year with the choir in October. In November they participated in a concert which included three other high schools in Tucson: Sabino, Santa Rita, and Palo Verde.

In December, they held the Holiday Concert with the choir. They then participated in the State Solo and Ensemble Festival.

The Regional Orchestra auditions were held in January. Seven of the Sahuaro students made regionals. Four of these seven also made All-state. The Allstate Orchestra Festival took place in the end of April. They also put on a concert with junior high and elementary students in April. The Tucson Imagination Celebration was in April too.

They were then invited to play in the graduation ceremony at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff. On the way back the group took a little pleasure break. They rode down into the Grand Canyon on the mules and then hiked out.

Their last concert was held during Fine Arts Week.

They ended the season with our own Baccalaureate Ceremony here at Sahuaro.

It sounds like it was, all in all, a very fun and satisfying year for the Orchestra members at Sahuaro!

SONG FILLS THE AIR

The Choraliers sing their hearts out

The thirty Choraliers directed by Mr. Ashcraft, performed several times this year. They started the year off with the Fall Concert and later they sang in the Cantique de Noel. They also had a Spring Concert, Fine Arts Festival and the American Choral Directors Association Festival. They entertained many by singing at service clubs, and meetings.

To obtain funds the Choraliers sold candles, cheese, sausage, Halloween candy and candy canes. The qualifications for a Choralier were that they must have completed beginning singing and either have an audition or have the teachers permission. Many of the Choraliers were also able to sing in the regional audition and State Solo Ensemble Festival.

Jazzy music appeals to the Stage Band

Stage Band is fun, but it also means practice until you get it right. The members in Stage Band found that out. It took a lot of hard work and time, but it definitely paid off. The Stage Band participated in the NAU Jazz Band Festival. They were one of four bands selected for the Honor's Concert, in which they received a Superior rating.

The Stage Band participated in many fundraising events. They sold candy with the marching band, held a Car Wash A-Thon, Soda-pop sale, and had a raffle at Gemco, which the entire band participated in. During the Christmas Season the Stage Band gave a performance at Park Mall. They received a $100.00 for the show, which went to their trea-surey.

Some of their everyday work is performing concerts at school for anyone that wishes to attend. It took a lot of practice, talent, and skill, which everyone must have to be in Stage Band; afterall performing is an art.

ON WITH THE SHOW

Talent skill and teamwork

The Thespian Society is a major part of the Drama department. The society is made up of students interested in the Theater. The members were initiated during a ceremony. The prospective members must meet with special requirements based on a point system. 20 points being the minimum. Points are earned by acting, being on the crew, or any other part involved in the production.

This year the president is Janet

Ash. Rusty Schultz is the vice president, and Renee De La Fuente is the secretary.

The Thespian Society's first production was Time Out for Ginger. Other productions will be Vacancy in Paradise, All My Sons, and Patchwork in the Spring.

The Stage Crew is also an important part of the Drama department. It's up to them to provide effective props and intricate lighting and sound effects as well as the curtain when needed.

The requirements are simple, good grades and an interest in the activity.

The Thespian society and the Stage Crew greatly rely on each other. Together they provide entertainment for all of Sahuarito to enjoy.

UNDERSTANDING

Meeting new people in new places

How would you like to spend a year or a summer away from home, surrounded by different people and different customs? That is what you'd ask yourself if you were thinking about participating in AFS.

AFS is for people who want to go places and meet new people. AFS has already helped more than 10,000 students for over 30 years.

Antonio Castel-Branco is the exchange student at Sahuaro this year. He is from Portugal and he really likes it here. Julie Richey, a former student of Sahuaro, is spending a year in Belgium.

Some of the fund raisers the AFS club is doing this year selling bagels, cleaning up after the home football games, helping sell things at the rodeo parade and in February, is sponsoring a donkey basketball game.

AFS will help develop your knowledge of the world around you.

Civitan and Chess Clubs accomplished a lot

Jr. Civitan members accomplished a lot during the year. The club is a non-profit organization that was designed to help the less fortunate.

The members held many fund raising events. They were in charge of the Santa Grams which were distributed throughout the school, sold Halloween candy and held the annual "Mile of Pennies", which was held at a track in Scottsdale. With the help of the handicapped, Civitan members aid out as many pennies as they could in order to see how many times around the track the pennies would go.

There were monthly dances held at The Tucson Park and Recreation Craft Center. The dances provided enjoyment for the mentally retarded and helped the members relate with them better. Civitan members played a major role in the Pima County Special Olympics.

Jr. Civitan received district awards for best campus project, the most money raised, and best club advisor who was Connie Ann Sanders.

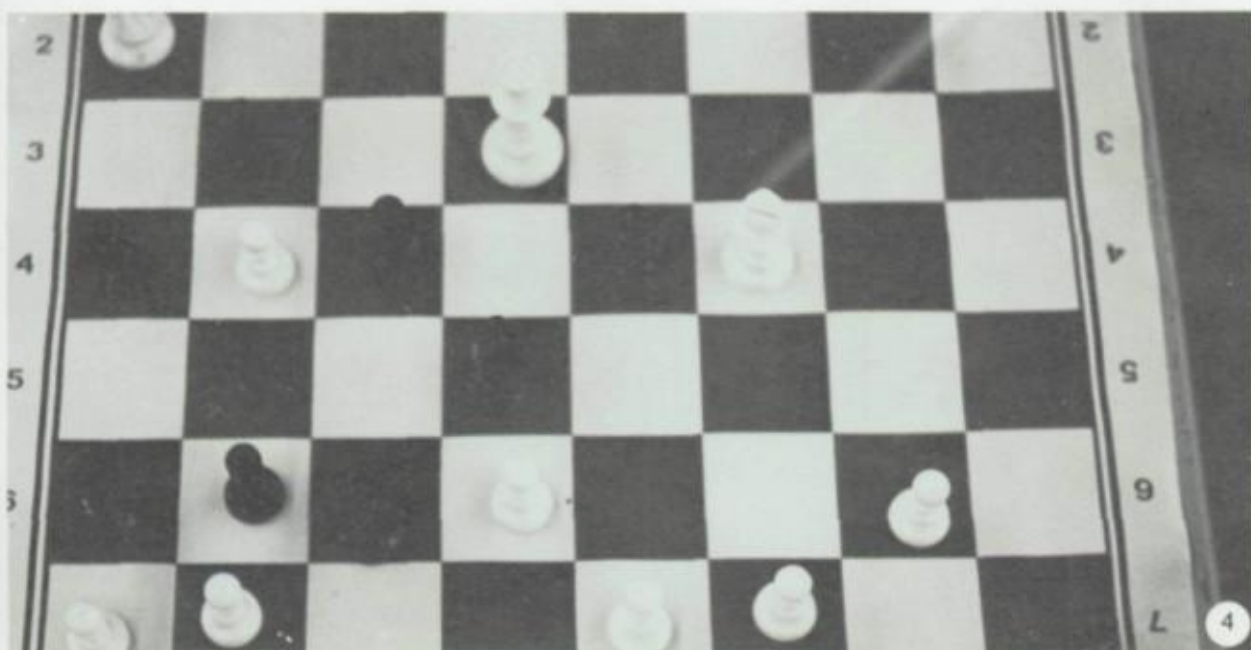

LaRee Simmons, the president of the club, said their main goal was "to get recognition throughout the school and to improve the communities' attitude towards the mentally and physically handicapped."

Other officers in the club were Vice-President Suzanne Cromwell, Secretary Julie Aldrich, and Treasurer Russel Scaramella.

The Chess Club did an outstanding job this year in the all-around. They took 8th place in the State Championship up in Phoenix. One member of the club, Kenny Marrow, took 1st on second board. With the help of the team captain, Gavin Wharton, and the clubs advisor, Mrs. Schriber, it was a good year.

All that was required to be a member of the Photo Club was an interest in photography. One of their activities during the school year was to organize and sponsor a faculty photography contest.

The club's two presidents, Robert Eng and Judy Ecker, agreed that their position was helpful in learning patience and leadership skills.

The members were enthusiastic about their time spent in Photo Club.

Rich Hightower comments, "Ever since I learned to focus a camera I had a burning desire to be in Photo Club."

Laura Marantz recalls, "I had so much fun in Photo Club that I could hardly wait for meetings."

Getting involved in the school's atmosphere

The three culture clubs this year on the Sahuaro campus were The Spanish, Black Culture and Latin. They provided extra curricular activities for their members. Students enjoyed learning about their different cultures and making friends in the process.

The Spanish club was involved in many activities. Mr. Lopez was the advisor of the club although they also had chosen candidates. He talked about ways of improving Sahuaro's atmosphere. During the meetings the members had "boundry breaking" sessions. That is students getting to know other students. The members felt this was very important, so they could become closer as a club. This year the main goal was to promote Spanish and to be aware of the hispanic influence in the southwestern United States. The Spanish club was in charge of the Student-Faculty Basketball game on March 14. The money they raised went to their treasury. That was used for the San Diego trip they planned. With a friendly atmosphere Mr. Lopez made the club very enjoyable. The officers in the club were: President Cathy Ikenaga, Vice President Devra Eisenfeld, Secretary Robin Boyle and Treasurer Bobbie Jo Hamilton.

Have you ever wondered what's going on in the Black Culture Club? That's what advisor, Terry Thomas, discusses in their meetings. They talked about issues like Miracle Valley and other incidents that happened to the Black Society during the year. The club stresses a need to bring friends who aren't black to their meetings. They would like the students to know that the club isn't just for black people; everyone is able to come together and find out what's going on in their community. The Black Culture Club made ribbons for Martin Luther King's Birthday as they celebrated it by wearing them all day. The ribbons being red, green, and black, represented bloodshed, land and color. The club's officers were President, Yvonne Lewis, Vice-President, Akrold Campbell, Secretary, Jamie Taylor, Treasurer, Lamonte Adams. All of the members enjoyed the new club they had formed.

This year Mr. Collura organized a Latin Club. One thing he discussed was Roman Culture, which made the club very interesting for the members. Mr. Collura has a lot of background information with different types of languages. This year he went to Argentina for a visit. The Latin Club had a car wash and the money they raised went to the food bank or another charity. Their main goal was to build a Roman Chariot by the end of the year. The project was to teach and show the students of one particular culture. In starting the year off right they picked officers. President: Amanda Roney, Vice President: Megan Giles, and Secretary/Treasurer: Bret Giles.

Getting a job interests these students.

COE, Cooperative Office Education, is a vocational program where students go to school in the morning and hold an office job in the afternoon. COE had many fund raisers this year, such as The March of Dimes Haunted House, a Thanksgiving Dinner Fund, and Toys For Tots. They were very involved with the community this year. This year's main goal was to raise funds for an employer's banquet at the U of A.

DECA is a club that is connected with marketing and distributive education programs. It helps the students learn more about marketing and distribution. DECA provides on the job training as well as classroom work and retailing for students. This year's main goal was to develop future leaders.

HERO, Home Economics Related Occupations, involves working with children, as well as the community. Their on the job training involves working at Nursery and Elementary schools. Their main concern is with children's education. Fund raisers for this year were bagel sales, car washes, and christmas ornament sales.

There has been . . .

There's been a few changes this year in the offices here at Sahuarro. The dean's office was changed to the "Operations" office. Instead of having deans we now have just three assistant principals. There is Alice Evans, in charge of Student Personnel, Harry Johnson, in charge of Student Activities, and Bob Jones, in charge of Preparations.

Bob Jones is the new assistant principal. He's worked with Tucson Unified School District for 26 years. Four of his children went through Sahuarro.

He's worked at Rincon, Tucson, Palo Verde, and Pueblo High Schools, doing various things ranging from coaching to assistant principal.

Every year . . .

Every year the office women at Sahuaro help to make the year an excellent one. They do so many little things that no one thinks about doing. Whether its typing up the daily announcements, answering the phones, taking someones temperature, or scheduling appointments for students to see their counselor, they're always around to help keep the year running smoothly.

Each have their own specific job, but it takes all of them to keep Sahuaro running as well as it does. We couldn't make it through the year if it weren't for their endless time and effort throughout the year.

Hats off to our working women!

Being on the . . .

Being on the counseling and guidance staff of a high school is not an easy task, but this year's staff made the most of it by keeping up with the many transfers, drops and general problems. Job and career information were also part of their daily agenda.

Teachers aides played a very important part in the teachers school day. They could be seen running around the halls, hands full of dittos, quizzes, and tests. Without them, teachers would be in more of a panic than ever.

In 82-83, Sahuaro had many special students to accomodate. As their number increased, so did the number of Adaptive Ed. teachers. Among them were note takers, social workers and interpreters. Overall, these four groups did more than the students could ever appreciate.

"Shhh! Please . . .

Shhh! Please keep the noise down." This is a familiar phrase heard by students who use our school library. The library provided information to students for reports, term papers and essays. Audial and Visual Center provided film projectors, tape recorders and enlargements. The Resource Center found in the basement also helped students to obtain information.

The bookstore was the best place to go to get most school supplies at a reasonable price.

Cooking and serving us food is mainly what the cafeteria personnel do for us. After this is done, they clean up and get everything ready for the next day. Janitors also play a big part in keeping the cafeteria clean as well as the campus itself. The janitors are taken for granted on the nice job that they do.

In what subject...

In what subject can you have the power of blowing up the entire school with just a mixture of a few chemicals? If you guessed science you were right.

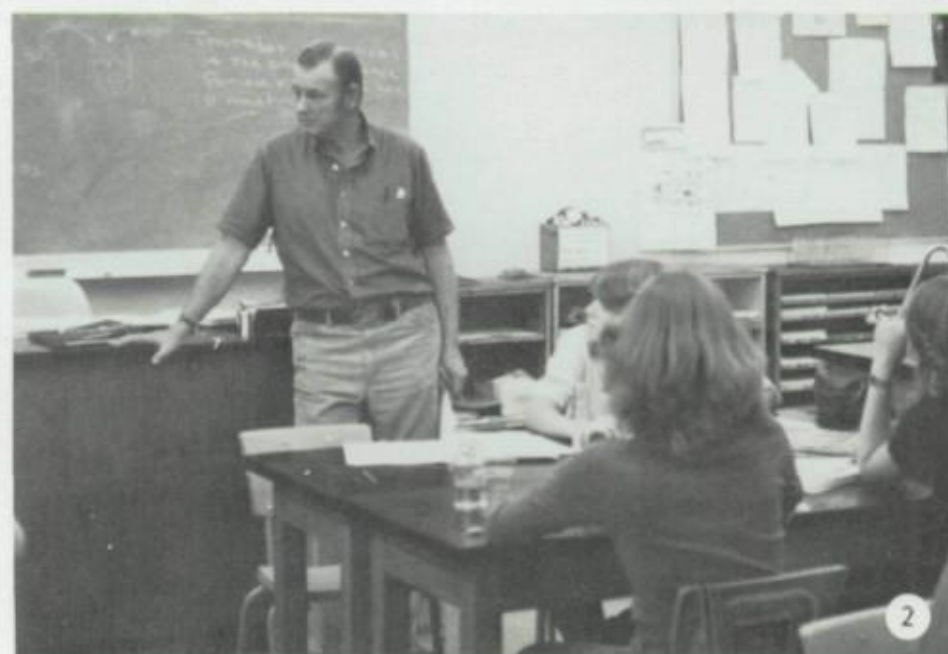

At Sahuaro science is a two year requirement in order to graduate. Many students seem to take their required two years during their first two years of high school. They have a variety of classes in which to choose from. For a first year credit one might try Earth or Physical science or maybe even Biology. Then can go to either Basic or Pre-med Chemistry. If one wishes to go further they could enroll in Physics and then Astronomy.

Students here at Sahuaro seem to like the variety of sciences taught and the teachers which teach them.

The Business . . .

The Business Education Department was very helpful to most students in that it taught skills that one can use in future occupations. Such things as typing and shorthand are necessary in most jobs and just basically good skills to know for everyday use. Record keeping and accounting are very helpful in balancing and keeping up with one's financial situation. Exploratory business, business communications and data processing were other courses that helped prepare students for the business world.

Auto, Drafting, Electronics, Graphic Arts, Photo, Printing, Welding and Woodworking were most of the courses one could take in the Industrial Department. These courses weren't just open to guys either. A lot of girls took interest in such classes. Some of these courses were divided up into more detailed courses such as mechanical drawing and architectural drawing.

During a freshman and sophomore's year, a great deal of time is spent in Physical Education, Health and Drivers Ed. classes. The activities in P.E. offer a great variety of entertaining and learning experiences. Through courses in basketball, badminton, tennis, aerobic dance, and others, students could learn all the aspects of their favorite sport or a new one.

The gruesome movies in Drivers Ed. helped to shock the students into realizing the seriousness of driving and the emphatic teaching of Mr. McConnell helped to drive the point home.

The heavy workload in Health was more than many students expected but it was worth it. They studied subjects from mental health to sex education.

Spanish, French

Spanish, French and Latin were the three foreign languages offered at Sahuaro this year. The classes studied the cultures and customs of the different countries. Spanish was offered up to 5 years, French up to 3 years and Latin two years.

Some History classes offered to Juniors were Immigration, American Revolution, Westward Expansion, Minorities in America, Boom and Bust and Postwar American.

Some government classes offered to seniors were the Legislative Process, Rights Before the Law, American Foreign Policy, Executive Process and the Soviet Union.

Free Enterprise broadened the students' horizons of the American Economic system. It taught how to become a better consumer as well as learning how to purchase stock.

The Foreign Language and Social Studies Department gave Sahuaro students an experience they'll never forget.

Cooking, Sewing, Challenge of marriage and Child Care were all part of the Home Economics Department. Students in these classes learned all about different foods and how to prepare them, nutrition, sewing and much more.

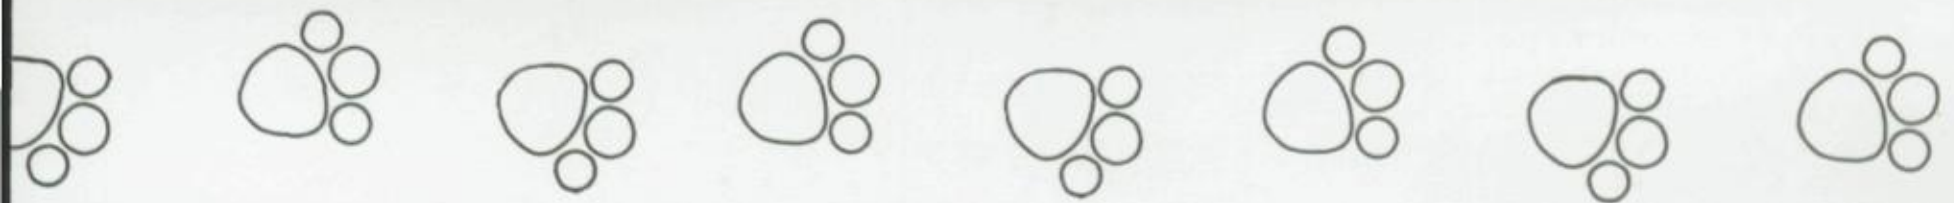

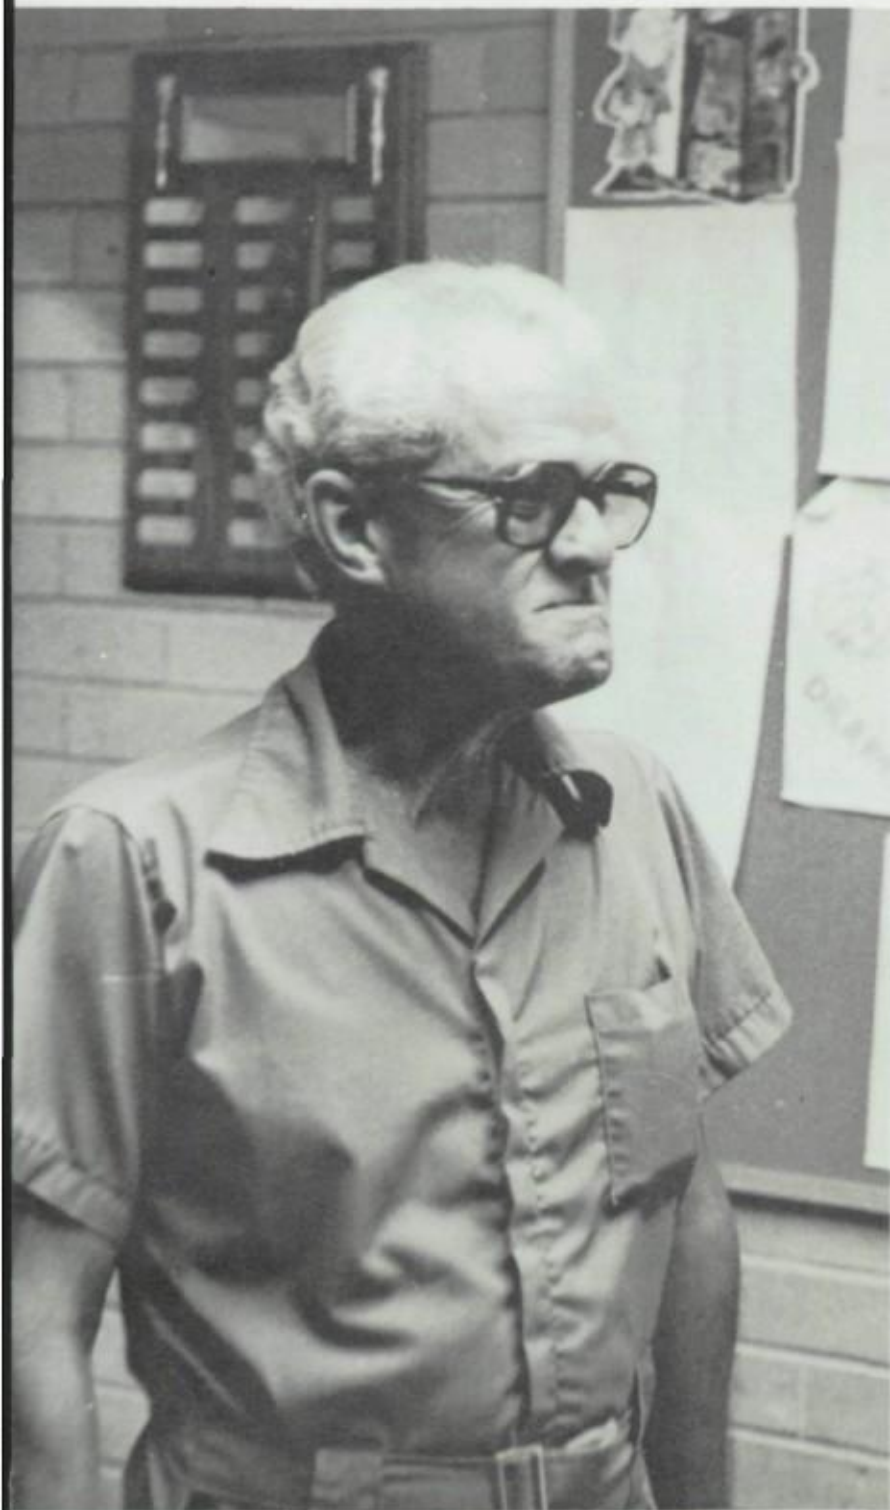

The Fine Arts Department had many different aspects to it such as Drama, marching band, chorus, orchestra and art. Drama had a fine year and put on many plays that were always attended by interested students. The orchestra and band performances were also enjoyed by students, parents and faculty members.

Ever wonder what was the sense of extra math when Algebra and Geometry were the only math courses required for entrance into most colleges? The time we spend with friends . . .

We laugh through the day and joke all night, never realizing that we are enjoying a once-in-a-lifetime experience. We let the time slip away and with it goes a part of our lives.

It is said that the days of our youth are the days of our glory, and with age comes the passing of glory. Our '84 Officers

The 1982-83 school year was an excellent one for the Junior student council.

Over the year, Junior officers strived to keep the class of '84 spirited and involved in school. They attended conventions and workshops which they found both educating and fun. They organized pep assemblies and dances throughout the year.

As advisor Mrs. Schloss built a trusting relationship with members which helped them work together well and made it a very successful year.

Another successful Homecoming for the Class of '84

Homecoming proved to be a time of working together for the Junior class as many put in long hours to help in the completion of the float, which held the title of "The Wizard of Oz." As the evening came to an end, the Junior float took an impressive second place.

The finalists for Junior royalties were Bill Brooks, Lisa Spina, Rodney Peete and Beth Stern. As the moment grew near and the flowers were given to the girls, Beth Stern with a smile on her face, gave Rodney Peete a hug of congratulations. All in all it was a truly exciting evening.

Juniors are talking about . . .

You see it all the time: groups of juniors standing around busily making use of their articulators. But what do they talk about that keeps them so entertained?

"Who's driving?", "Where's the party?", "Who's he dating?", "Are you ready for college?", "Did you take the P.S.A.T.?", "Did you go to Homecoming?", "Did you play Powder Puff?", "Where do you work?", "What is she wearing?", "Is that your car?", "Where are you going over vacation?"

So, if you've ever walked by those groups of juniors and wondered what they were so intensely talking about, wonder no more.

...and now for our Sophomore Student Council

The Sophomore student council officers for this school year were Kara Aquilano, president; Tami Holman, vice-president; Sandi Erickson, secretary; senators Julie Price and Jackie Rosenberg, and advisor Harrie Handler.

When asked what the Sophomore student council's goals were for this year, Kara told us that their main goal for this year was to represent the student body well, get the sophomores more interested in school activities and try and make school more fun for Sahuaro as a whole. Some of the special functions that went on this past school year were organized by the Sophomore student council were the Valentine's Day flower sale and a shoelace sale. The shoelaces had a cougar on them. Mrs. Handler was a very helpful and supportive advisor.

It's Homecoming again!

Homecoming events have always been one of the most joyous and looked forward to times of the year. With smiling faces and waving arms the sophomore nominees presented themselves in Thunderbirds. This year's sophomore royalty were Jackie Rosenberg and Chuck Stopani. The runners-up were Ann Longton and Fred Dail. After the royalties were announced, the Sahuaro students enjoyed themselves on the dance floor. Much time and effort was put into the sophomore float, the theme being Poltergeist. Everyone seemed to be satisfied with the results.

Sophomores and their weekends

The school year, as far as most sophomores were concerned, was better than last year. We were all glad we weren't freshmen! We enjoyed not being the subject of the remark, which was said with a laugh or a sneer, "FRESHMAN!" Even more than that though, we enjoyed our weekends. It represented a chance to get away from the pressures of school and relax, have fun, and enjoy ourselves.

spots to go this year were Mt. Lemon, to camp out or just hike through the woods until you found a place to stay for awhile, and Reddington Pass to go cliff diving or just have fun and goof off. Friday nights belong to Sahuaro's games, as well as various activities that went on afterwards. Many students of the class of '85 could be found at one of the many concerts that occurred during the year.

Homecoming

The theme for this year's homecoming floats was movies. The Freshmen float was based on the movie "Caveman" and finished third overall. Adding to all the excitement in this year's homecoming was Sahuaro's upset tie with the third ranked team in the state, the Amphi Panthers with a final score of 34-34.

After the game, there was the homecoming dance and crowning of the royalty. Greg Schuette and Roz Skaff were crowned Freshmen royalty. Runners up included Marc Fleetwood, Tracy Gallager, and Todd George.

Frosh—The transition to high school

When asked if they thought that high school lived up to their expectations, most Freshmen agreed that high school was much better than junior high or middle school. Most liked was the freedom (no hall monitors and a choice of eating areas during lunch), the variety of classes, and especially the Wednesday/Thursday schedules.

And their dislikes? There were a few. One major dislike was the treatment that the Freshmen received from the Sophomore class. Most Sophomores wanted revenge from last year and expressions such as "What a Freshman" or "Ah, Freshmen!" became popular. Another dislike was the UMA policy which some thought was unfair.

FRESHMEN STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS Front: Michelle White, Secretary. Middle: Mike Bell, Vice-pres.; Nathan Johnson, Pres. Back: K. Smith, secretary; Leah Estes, senator.

Student Council

Just what exactly does Student Council do anyway? Well, they plan all activities like the Cougar Jam, Homecoming dance, Homecoming floats, canned food drive, the Holiday prom, etc. The bands and D.J.'s are all hired by Student Council. Officers are responsible for raising money for their class through slave sales, button sales, candy sales, flower sales, garter sales, and mistletoe sales. All in all, the main idea for Student Council is to boost school spirit.
